

Hodgemoor Business Forum

Chalfont St Giles

7-10 p.m. Wednesday 14 November 2007

Entry free! Memorial Hall, School Lane (opposite Milton's Cottage)

This is a chance for local businesses to make themselves known in an informal atmosphere just before the Christmas rush! All sorts of local crafts and cottage industries (not just horse-related) will be displaying their wares and giving relaxed advice to customers. We are delighted with the list of participants already registered (below) and we have a few more stands to make available.

- Photography and photo gifts by Pete Glowski
- Run your own internet shop with My Shop on the Web
- Store rain off your own roof www.rainwaterharvesting.co.uk
- Moroccan leather goods catch the Marrakech Express
- Fashions for him, her and the horse from the new Chalfont Saddlery
- Silver Jewellery by Chantico
- Sports massage and therapy and Kangoo anti-impact Boots
- Aloe Vera - organic health care from Julia Tilley
- Horse Sports Massage by Catriona McGarvie
- Special offers from Pristine Ovens Lesley Cornthwaite

Space rental £20 for Hodgemoor members, £30 for non-members.

Entry free to all comers. Food and refreshments will be available.

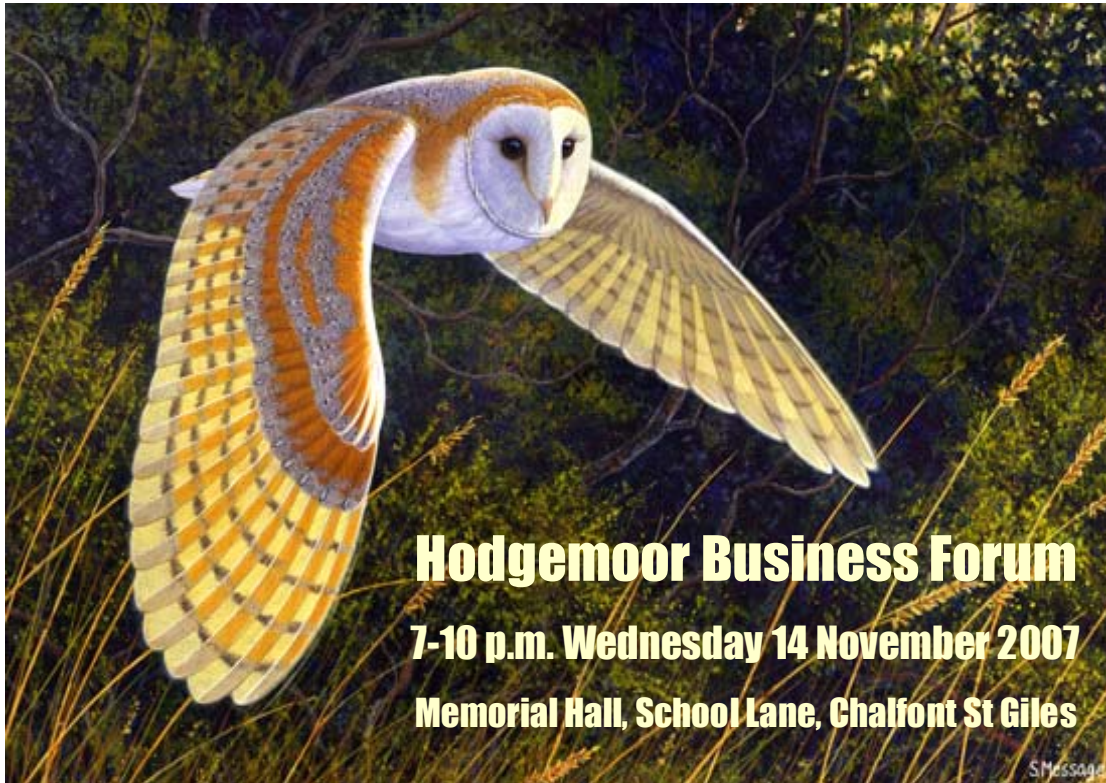

The Forum is organised by the Hodgemoor Riding Association in aid of in Hodgemoor Wood for the benefit of all users - walkers, cyclists and riders. In the last 7 years we have raised over £60 000 towards improving access and improving the trails for horse-riders, walkers and cyclists in and around Hodgemoor Wood .
