

HODGEMOOR RIDING ASSOCIATION

Enjoy hacking off the roads? Like riding in beautiful woods? Hodgemoor Wood offers you over 5 kilometres of trails set in 250 acres of ancient woodland. If you want to help preserve this great facility, improve riding in the area, and help the horse-riding community (even if you don't hack!) then please join or rejoin the association.

The Past: The trails may seem pretty good now, but in 2000 the Forestry Commission threatened to close the wood to riders because of the damage they caused making many trails virtually impassable. The Association has since 2001 raised over £62 000 from grants and its own activities, resurfaced 2 kilometres of the worst sections and created a new trail.

The Future: Inside Hodgemoor: There is still plenty to be done. The trails must be maintained. We cannot risk the wood being closed to horse riders in the future.

Outside Hodgemoor: We need new bridleways in the area to get off the roads. We need you support to lobby for better access.

Membership gives you:
